Friday, July 13, 2018
9:00 am - 12:00 pm

What better way to teach concepts such as adaptation, changes in ecosystems, functions that allow animals to live and their role in an ecosystem than by visiting the birding hot spot of North Texas! Teachers will leave the workshop with hands-on activities that can be done in the classroom and/or outside, teaching students amazing things that birds have to teach us. Participants will participate in the following:

- ✓ Documenting and analyzing observations from the field
- ✓ Learn proper use of binoculars as an observation tool
- ✓ Graphing results from hands-on activities
- ✓ Hands-on activities for the classroom
- ✓ Learning just how fun birds really are!
