

JBS Neighborhood Wildlife Adventures

The John Bunker Sands Wetland Center is on the move! We are bringing the fun and excitement of nature learning to your community by launching our JBS Neighborhood Wildlife Adventure Series! These family-friendly interpretive talks are sure to educate and entertain adults and children alike in either an indoor or outdoor setting of your choice! Our one-hour interpretive programs are presented by our professional educational team and include either taxidermied animals or LIVE snakes.

Program Choices:

Coyotes and Bobcats: Misunderstood Members of our Community

Not sure if that feline in your backyard is a well-fed housecat or a bobcat? Have you wondered what to do if you meet a coyote during a neighborhood walk? Join our education team as we learn how to properly ID and understand the behavior of two of our favorite urban Texas mammals. This program includes taxidermied animals so that participants can see up close the beauty of these beneficial members our urban community.

Snakes: Are They Really Slimy and Other Myths

Does a fear of snakes keep you from enjoying the outdoors? Did you grow up hearing the phrase “a dead snake is a good snake”? Join our education team for an engaging interpretive talk as we reveal the truths behind common myths about these amazing reptiles. This program utilizes live snakes as part of our education team, and participants will have the opportunity to touch one of our snakes at the end of the program.
